from trade, but naturally they have not helped to break the full in the market.

No noteworthy business has resulted from the revival of the billet agreement, with a price basis somewhat below that recently prevalent, but the spread between billets and rods would seem sufficient to encourage some buying by rud mills.

That steel mills which have had no steel to sell for months are now able to offer a certain small fraction of their output on the market in dicates that finishing capacity is not as fully on the first haif of July.

While there are no indications thus far that consumption is to be maternally reduced in the large seriously discussed. Overextension of trade in the large seriously discussed. Overextension of their serious discussed. Overextension of the same sharp scrutiny and sitting as has come to the stocks of overcapitalized consumiting to next year, and it is consumed the same sharp scrutiny and sitting as has come to the stocks of overcapitalized consuminating for next year, and it is consumed the same sharp scrutiny and sitting as has come to 1,096,000 tons for 1904 deliving an indications.

The railroads, while not scrambling for early places on order books of the rail mills keep on contracting for next year, and it is the consuments of the stocks of overcapitalized consuminating for next year, and it is consumed the summand of the fail and winter.

Pig iron is weaker. Stocks have been increasing, while foundrymen have waited, and the large block being taken at that figure are again denied. Contracts for castings are being the foundry to a string the fou was nervous and apprehensive of developments in that position. A tumor had been circulated vertex that just shorts were obstanding in excess of cotion available for delivery, and the early themand tended to confirm this view. Notices were issued estimated to the amount of $6,000 bales, and were promitly taken, presumably by the bull clique. A factor in the early advance was the strong spot situation in Liverpool, sales there of some $6,000 bales boing reported at an advance of 6 points, and while, in some quarters, the heavy rains reported were considered of benefit to the crop, they exerted a builtie effect on the average market.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

New York, July 39.—Live poultry—Receipts to-day were 5 cars Western and 1 Southern, with a limited amount of local poultry by express. There was a good demand for fowls and market cleaned up closely, with a complete clearance expected this week, but spring chickens were inclined to drag, and especially the small Southern, and it locks as if some will have to go over. Other kinds of poultry about steady, Quotations unchanged. over. Other kinds of poultry about steady, Quotations unchanged.

Dressed Poultry-Receipts to-day 1122 pkgs. Some of the belated lots arrived late vesterday afternoon and the Sar Union receipts were heavy this morning, but the stock shipped by the M. D. T. was held back by a wreck at Yonkers and was not delivered. The easy feeling became more pronounced vesterday afternoon and quotations were shaded fully t cent per pound on fancy dry-picked and sended, while this morning with liberal supplies, it was impossible to exceed 16c on fancy sculded springs and 16c was extreme on dry-picked, while very desirable lots were pressed to sale at 14c for either dry-picked or scalded and lower on Southern, with prospects of a clearance none too bright. Fowls were in freer supply and 16c was quite extreme on thest, with market dull and heavy and devoid of animation. Old roosters dull and lower. Desirable large Western spring ducks steady. the knee with an clastic or tane passed through a casing. This may also serve as a garter.

The skirt is tucked in clusters of three that alternate with plain spaces. The tucks are stitched down over the hips, where the skirt is closely adjusted. The closing is made at the center back under the inverted plaits that are flatly pressed. If a full skirt is desired, the tucks need not be taken up and the skirt may be gathered at the top. Fancy braid applied on the collar, yoke and skirt makes an effective finish.

Flannel, serge, pongee, taffeta and mohair are all appropriate fabrics for this mode. Bands of the same material in different shade, fancy braid, and even lace are used for trimming.

To make the suit in the medium size will require seven yards of material 35 inches wide. The pattern, No. 9039, is cut in sizes for a 34, 38 and 42 inch bust measure.

Ladles' Shirt Waist, No. 2020.—Ecru and red polka dot pongee is used for this stylish blouse, with red velvet ribbon and Persian embroidery for trimming.

It is mounted on a glove-fitting feather-boned lining that closes in the center front. The back is plain across the shoulders and drawn down close to the beit, where the slight fullness is arranged in small plaits. The closing is made in double-breasted style with garnet buttons and buttomboles worked through a box plait that extends from shoulder to waist on the left sile. Deep tucks in the waist are stitched down to form a pointed yoke and provide becoming fullness of the bust. Narrow red velvet ribbon applied on the edges makes an effective trimming.

9030-LADIES' SHIRT WALST.

Walsts in this style are made of India slik, taffeta, foulard, albatross and veiling, also linen, pique lawn and madras. The tucks may be finished with narrow lace, quilled, or bands of embroidery applied between the tucks.
